

GERMANY NOW CLAIMING ACCESS PORT OF TRIESTE

Austrian Bow in Italy to Have Milan and Brescia as Chief Objectives.

(International News Service.) Milan, Italy, May 15.—The German government is now claiming access to the Austro-Hungarian port of Trieste and the right to establish a naval school there in order to prevent the port from becoming a Slav trade center. (Trieste is on the Adriatic sea and has extensive commerce.)

Enemy Has Advantage.
(Associated Press.) London, May 16, Via Ottawa.—An Austrian blow against Italy may be expected at an early date. In the opinion of well-informed observers here, the enemy project, it is believed generally, comprises a great invasion, with Milan and Brescia as the chief objectives, in a scheme to smash the Italian army. Since the retreat last October the Italian strategic plan has been recast and the main defensive positions now are held solidly, but it is believed the Austrians intend to strike against the remaining 150 miles of the original front west of the Brenna. Along the mountain wall stretching from the Stelvio pass to Monte Grappa, between the Brenna and the Piave, the enemy has the advantage of the positions.

GERMAN AGITATION IN UKRAINE IS UNCHECKED

(Associated Press.) London, May 15.—Anti-German agitation in the Ukraine continues unchecked, says a Vienna dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin, and transmitted from The Hague by the Exchange Telegraph company. Ukrainian newspapers attack Germany bitterly and accuse her of using the Russian warships at Sebastopol for the purpose of seizing local and Ukrainian merchantmen. It is reported that the Germans have mined the strait of Yenikale, closing the passage into the sea of Azov.

LUNG-VITA ENDED TEN-YEAR COUGH

Mr. Patten Coughed So Much He Spit Up Blood—Glad to Find Relief.

"I have had a very bad cough for ten years and have taken every kind of medicine I could think of that I thought would help me," says Mr. W. H. Patton, who lives at 1276 East Hill Street, Nashville, Tenn. "I also took nearly every medicine that anyone recommended, but could not get any relief. I would have such hard coughing spells that I would spit up blood. Consequently I was very much worried about myself, for it did look as if I would never find any medicine that would do me any good. Finally I was told Lung-Vita would help me, and so bought a bottle. This medicine commenced to benefit me from the very first, and I can say now that after using Lung-Vita for awhile I am perfectly well. I cannot say too much about Lung-Vita, for it is certainly a great medicine for coughs and colds." Your druggist or dealer handles Lung-Vita. Get a bottle today.—(Adv.)

ITALIAN WARSHIP TORPEDOES AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN BATTLESHIP

(International News Service.) Rome, May 16.—An Italian warship torpedoed the Austro-Hungarian port of Pola on Wednesday morning and torpedoed a battleship of the Viribus Unitis type. The sea attack was completed by an Italian raid in which two Austrian aeroplanes were shot down and others were forced to land. The Italians returned to their base without having suffered any losses.

There are four Austro-Hungarian battleships of the Viribus Unitis type. In addition to the Viribus Unitis itself there are the Szent Istvan, the Prinz Eugen, and the Tegetthof, according to the Cloyd naval manual. Their tonnage is 20,000 and they carry complements of 1,000 men. Pola is the chief Austro-Hungarian naval base lying at the foot of the Istrian peninsula on the Adriatic sea.

OFFICIAL REPORTS

British.

(Associated Press.) London, May 15.—The artillery was active last night in the valleys of the Somme and Ancre rivers, east of Arras and on the Flanders battlefields, the war office reports.

The statement follows: "Our troops raided the enemy's trenches last night in the neighborhood of Gavrelle (northeast of Arras) and captured a few prisoners. "Beyond artillery activity on both sides at different points, particularly in the valleys of the Somme and Ancre rivers, east of Arras and on the northern battle front, there is nothing further to report."

French.

(Associated Press.) Paris, May 16.—Artillery actions occurred last night on the French front southeast of Amiens, in the Halles-Castel sector, says today's war office announcement. West of Montdidier a German raiding detachment was driven off. The French took prisoners in patrol operations north of the Ailette.

The statement reads: "An artillery duel took place in the Halles-Castel sector. A German raid west of Montdidier was repulsed by the French fire. "French patrols operating north of the Ailette brought back prisoners."

Italian.

Rome, May 16.—An Austrian battleship was torpedoed by Italian naval forces in Pola harbor early Tuesday morning. It was officially announced today. The battleship was of the Viribus Unitis type (20,000-ton vessels). The Italian force worked its way into the Austrian naval base by dodging the patrol boats and searchlights of the defenders.

The official announcement reads: "Italian naval units, avoiding patrol boats and searchlights, succeeded in entering Pola harbor early on Tuesday and in torpedoing an Austrian battleship of the Viribus Unitis type. "Simultaneously, Italian seaplane squadrons attacked Austrian battle planes over Pola, brought down two and forced several others down out of control. The Italian machines all returned safely to their bases."

There are four Austrian battleships of the Viribus Unitis class, which comprised the largest and most modern fighting vessels completed for the Austro-Hungarian navy up to the time the European war broke out. The other ships of the class are the Tegetthof, the Prinz Eugen and the Szent Istvan. The name ship was completed in October, 1912, and the others at intervals between then and the beginning of the war, with the exception of the Szent Istvan, which was not finished until 1915.

Each battleship of the class displaces 20,000 tons, is 525 feet long over all, 99 feet beam and 28 feet draught. Their armament comprises twelve 12-inch and twelve 8.1-inch guns in the main battery, with eighteen 11.5-pounders and various smaller guns, and from two to six torpedo tubes. The complement of the battleships ranges from 962 to 988 men. All are heavily armored and are classed as dreadnoughts. The Viribus Unitis developed a speed of 20.9 knots on her trial trip.

Attempt to Raid Paris

German Airplanes Chased by French When Guns Force Them to Turn Back.

(International News Service.) Paris, May 16.—German airplanes tried to raid Paris last night and succeeded in dropping some bombs in the suburbs, but failed to break through the defenses proper.

The signal that enemy planes were approaching Paris was sounded shortly after 11 o'clock. The high angle guns at once opened fire and defense machines went up to give battle to the invaders.

The "all clear" signal was sounded at 11:55 o'clock. A German aeroplane crossed the southern lines Wednesday morning flying in the direction of Paris.

It was chased by French machines and fired upon by the artillery and was forced to turn back.

15.—The official communication from general headquarters today reads: "North of Kemmel attacks were completely successful, and resulted in bringing in 120 prisoners. We made an attack when troops were being relieved, and cost the French sanguinary losses. The artillery duel in the Kemmel sector remains intense."

"Early in the morning, in connection with French thrusts, fresh infantry engagements developed there. "We made a short thrust between the Ancre and the Somme and penetrated the British lines on the Bray-Corgie road and held the territory gained against twice repeated and strong counter-attacks."

"Lively artillery activity continued for the support of the infantry. Near Villers-Bretonneux, on both sides of the Luce and the Avre, firing engagements have repeatedly revived. On the western bank of the Avre the enemy attacked our lines near Castel. He was repulsed with heavy losses."

"Our airmen yesterday shot down five enemy balloons. We have dropped numerous bombs on Calais and Dunkirk, as well as the munition depots in the rear and railway establishments of the enemy."

APPRECIATIVE WOMEN
How often is the question asked, "Are the testimonials letters published in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound genuine and true?" In answer to that question we want to answer most emphatically yes; and it is gladness for health restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after weeks, months and sometimes years of suffering that has prompted these women to write such letters in order that other women who suffer as they once did may profit by their experience.—(Adv.)

U. S. PREPARATIONS ON WEST FRONT AMAZING

(Associated Press.) London, May 16.—American preparations on the western front are amazing in their intensity and plans are being made to care for 5,000,000 American troops, Harry E. V. Brittain, secretary of the English branch of the Pilgrims' club, told the Royal Colonial Institute last night. If the Germans do not give in, he added, the number of American troops will be increased to any amount necessary.

Sir Charles P. Lucas, former head of the dominions department at the colonial office, said he wondered if the Germans realized what the entry of America into the war meant. It meant, he said, not only the accession to allied powers of many millions of fighting men and the addition of vast resources, but also the coming in of the only one amongst the great peoples of the world who have seen and carried through to an unmistakable issue a four years' war.

The United States, asserted Miss Higgins, of the American labor delegation, had answered the call of blood. England has been a wonderful inspiration, and the heart of America was full of gratitude for what England's sons had achieved.
